Tribal Government for Sitka, Alaska

Career Opportunity:

Community Supervision Officer Healing To Wellness Court

Sitka Tribe of Alaska (STA) is seeking a Community Supervision Officer for its new Healing to Wellness Court, a jail diversion program for individuals who have committed nonviolent substance abuse-related crimes. The Community Supervision Officer position will have an essential role in promoting accountability, recovery, and success for program participants. They will have primary responsibility for supervision and case management for individuals in the program. They will monitor participant compliance with court orders and may work collaboratively with the Department of Corrections for participants who are dually supervised. This position offers an exciting opportunity to support residents of the community in building healthy and productive lives, guided by Tribal values.

The Community Supervision Officer will have empathy and respect for individuals with a history of substance abuse, a commitment to restorative justice, and the ability to model accountability and personal wellness. A bachelor's degree in social work or criminal justice and at least a year of professional experience in human services and/or criminal justice is preferred. Cultural competency with Native people is required. The successful applicant must be able to pass a criminal background check and have or be able to obtain an Alaska's driver's license.

STA is a sovereign Tribal government in Sitka, Alaska, an island community of 8,500 residents in Southeast Alaska. Sitka is a beautiful community with a high quality of life. STA has a healthy workplace culture and offers an outstanding benefit package including health, dental, vision, short-term disability and life insurance, 401k matching and generous paid time off and wellness benefits. This position is open to all applicants; Tribal/Native preference in hiring applies. A full job description and application is available on STA's website. Compensation depends on qualifications, beginning at $47,112. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.
